IS THERE A LEVEL PLAYING FIELD IN THE TOBACCO INDUSTRY?

As the debate on "Sin Taxes" rages in Congress, there are arguments on whether or not there is a level playing field in the tobacco industry.

A leading Philippine cigarette manufacturer (the "Manufacturer") naturally insists that "there is no unequal treatment between existing and new brands".

Nothing, though, is further from the truth as the cold, hard facts below completely belie this insistence!

FACT: Under the current law (the "Law"), brands present in the market as of 1996 enjoy permanent excise tax classification. Their classification does not change even if they increase their retail prices.

FACT: New brands introduced after 1996 are classified based on current retail prices. For example, a brand introduced in 2012 will be classified based on 2012 retail prices.

Leading Brand M
Retail Price: P100
Classification: High Price
Tax Rate: P16.30 per pack

New Brand N
Retail Price: P100
Classification: Low Price
Tax Rate: P16.30 per pack

• Two similar products, priced exactly the same, pay different excise tax rates only because one is a 1996 brand and the other is a 2012 brand!

• The difference is an incredible P16.30 per pack!

• Marlboro, being a 1996 brand, enjoys "discriminatory protection" under the Law and therefore pays only P16.30 per pack. Regularly, the Manufacturer saves P16.30 for every pack of Marlboro sold in the Philippines!

• But be told, this system of permanent excise classification causes the Philippine Government to lose tens of billions of pesos annually!

SADLY, THIS IS HOW "LEVEL" THE PLAYING FIELD IS IN THE TOBACCO INDUSTRY!

While the Supreme Court, in a decision rendered in 2006, upheld the constitutionality of the Law, it categorically conceded the finding "that the law seems to derogate, to a limited extent, one of its avowed objectives (i.e. promoting fair competition among the players in the industry) (and) would suggest that, by Congress' own standards, the current excise tax system on sin products is imperfect."

The Manufacturer, with its portfolio of 1996 brands, now controls 94% of the Philippine cigarette market. Understandably, it wants to preserve the current, imperfect system of cigarette taxation at the expense of the Philippine Government and consuming public.

No more! The Law, protective, as it has been for the longest time, of a virtual monopoly, must go and the classification protection it fosters, abolished. The market deserves the fairest of competition and the tobacco farmers to have more buyers for their product!

IT IS TIME TO SUPPORT THE GOVERNMENT'S CALL FOR SIN TAX REFORMS, TRUE LEVEL PLAYING FIELD AND MATUWID NA DAAN!

Bicol forest products come with green tags

By: Ryan C. Sison
Bacolod, Negros Occidental

The Bicol region is known for its rich forest resources. The region's forests are not only a source of timber, but also a source of non-timber forest products (NTFPs). The Bicol region is home to a variety of NTFPs, including honey, rattan, and medicinal plants.

One of the most common NTFPs in the Bicol region is honey. The region's forests are home to a variety of bees, which produce honey. The honey is used for a variety of purposes, including as a sweetener and as a natural remedy.

Another common NTFP in the Bicol region is rattan. The region's forests are home to a variety of rattan species, which are used for a variety of purposes, including as a building material and as a craft material.

A pile of harvested forest products, including logs and branches, in the Bicol region.

Medicinal plants are also a common NTFP in the Bicol region. The region's forests are home to a variety of medicinal plants, which are used for a variety of purposes, including as a natural remedy.

The Bicol region's forests are a valuable resource. They provide a source of timber and NTFPs, and they also provide a habitat for a variety of plants and animals. It is important to protect the Bicol region's forests for future generations.

One way to protect the Bicol region's forests is to ensure that forest products are harvested sustainably. This means that the products should be harvested in a way that does not damage the forest.

Another way to protect the Bicol region's forests is to promote the use of NTFPs. This can be done by creating markets for NTFPs and by providing information about the benefits of NTFPs.

Impeachment court extends afternoon trial hours

By Kelly C. Murphy

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP) — The U.S. House of Representatives on Tuesday extended the afternoon trial hours for the impeachment of President Donald Trump, a move that could allow the trial to continue through the night.

The House Judiciary Committee on Tuesday voted 23-19 to extend the trial hours from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. The vote was a 23-19 split, with 19 Republicans and 4 Democrats voting in favor of the extension. The extension would allow the trial to continue through the night, which could be a significant development in the impeachment process.

The trial is currently scheduled to begin at 1 p.m. on Wednesday. The extension would allow the trial to continue through the night, which could be a significant development in the impeachment process.

It's the economy, stupid! That's the message that should be ringing in the ears of every American politician and pundit these days. The economy is the only issue that matters, and it's the only issue that the American people care about. The economy is the only issue that can win or lose an election. The economy is the only issue that can make or break a president. The economy is the only issue that can save or destroy a nation.

Death toll in Congo blast approaches 200 US Congress to seek new sanctions vs Iran

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The death toll in a recent explosion in the Democratic Republic of Congo has risen to nearly 200, according to officials. The blast occurred in a crowded market area, killing many civilians. The U.S. Congress is expected to pass new sanctions against Iran in the coming weeks.

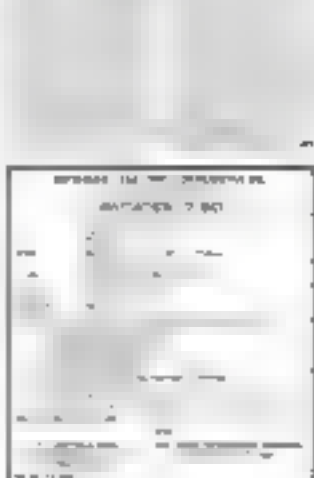

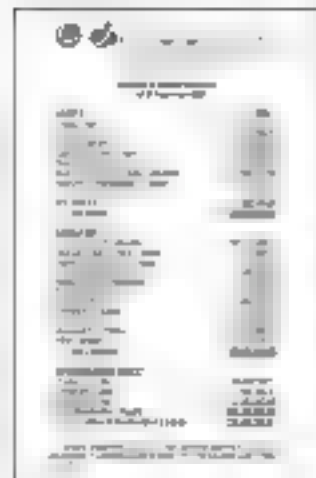

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The U.S. Congress is expected to pass new sanctions against Iran in the coming weeks. The sanctions are aimed at curbing Iran's nuclear program and its support for terrorism. The House of Representatives has already passed a similar bill, and the Senate is expected to follow suit.

India's Gandhi dynasty suffers election blow

NEW DELHI, India — The Gandhi dynasty, which has ruled India for nearly six decades, suffered a major setback in the recent general elections. The Congress party, led by Manmohan Singh, lost to the opposition Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP). The BJP's victory is a significant blow to the Gandhi family's political dominance in India.
